Building the Most Competitive Golf Teams Possible ...while keeping the sport secondary to Academics

After coaching golf at the high school level for 32 seasons, as well as helping guide his three children to become very successful in their golfing careers, Coach Villanueva has played a large role in shaping hundreds of young adults into accomplished golfers and even more importantly, respectful young adults. And as an avid golfer and single digit handicapper for two decades, he understands what it takes to push through the mental barriers that can make even the most seasoned golfers lose focus.

In thirty seasons at Castle View High School, Coach Villanueva has challenged his players to strive every day to reach these goals, which in turn will help them to not only become superior golfers, but more importantly, become extraordinary human beings:

- Learning and improving on the fundamentals
 - Showing the utmost respect to both the people and environment
you come in contact with and the school you represent
 - Always playing by the rules
 - Keeping your priorities in order
 - Competing hard for yourself and your team
- AND MOST IMPORTANTLY...
Understanding that with the game of golf,
one must NEVER take yourself too seriously.
Relax and Have Fun!
